NB: This table is accompanied by the book Bryan Saunders by Dodo Rose detailing the furniture maker's life, the present table was purchased by Mr Richard C Barnwell, manager of Barclays Bank in Coggeshall, the table is described in the book - p.13 '...many local people patronised the workshop, and one local table made in 1932 for the local bank manager, Mr Barnwell, has recently returned to Coggeshall as his daughter and her husband have retired to the town. The excellent workmanship stood them in good stead as the table would not go into the new dining room, but the removal of the wooden pegs fixing the top - said to have been a church door - enabled it to be installed in its new home. It cost ten guineas, I have christened this table 'The Wandering Table' because every time Mr Barnwell was promoted and moved the table had to go too' £500-700
